From the President

By Jackie Railey

We are at full capacity, in the midst of the Holiday Season and in anticipation of the many planned festivities just around the corner! We are truly blessed to live where we are free to observe our personal beliefs no matter their origin and yet have the capacity to respect one another and celebrate the joys of the Holidays together. Wynmoor is so fortunate in that we are a diverse community with residents from all over the country and beyond. We come from different backgrounds and ethnicities; however, we share a common bond as neighbors and many of us have built invaluable friendships living in this wonderful community.

I would like to take this opportunity to say “thank you” to all the association boards, building directors, etc. Their job is not an easy task. They selflessly devote their time and efforts to what is often a thankless job. Their contribution of time and effort is the perfect example of community living. It allows the great majority of residents to go about their day never noticing what it takes to keep their building and grounds looking great!

In this vein, Meet, Eat and Greet celebrations have resumed. This activity is a perfect opportunity to join your friends and neighbors to promote a true spirit of our community. As we have come back to normal and have reopened our facilities and have returned to in-person events and activities, we encourage our residents to join all the wonderful amenities Wynmoor has to offer. Please come out to a show, movie, dances, bingo or whatever you enjoy.

We have also reinstated our monthly resident orientations and bus tours of the Wynmoor properties. This is a great opportunity for our residents to become educated of the day-to-day operations of council and administration. This also serves as a great tool to show off our amenities. Please support all the activities we have to offer.

2022 has proven to be a very challenging year with supplies and demands being at an all-time low. Staffing also has been difficult, but through this time our department heads and employees have proven their resilience and dedication to the well-being of Wynmoor. Thank you all for your willingness to always step up and pick up the slack wherever needed. Of course, there is always room for improvement and that is what we strive for and hope to achieve in the future with Bruce Bandler as our Administrator at the helm.

I would also like to thank my Management Committee who has volunteered timeless hours and support to maintain the integrity and reputation of the Wynmoor Community property. Value is at an all time high as well as the level of resident’s satisfaction.

My wish for all you this Holiday Season is that you get to spend some precious time with those most important to you in your lives; friends, family, whoever they may be. The joy of togetherness is invaluable and irreplaceable. Happy Hanukkah, a Blessed Merry Christmas, Happy and Healthy New Year! May God Bless you and your family in 2023 and beyond!

Not Easy to Talk About Death-But!

By Mobolaji Adedoyin

I know it is not easy to talk about death or dying, especially in December, when many people are thinking about a new year starting soon. One of my friends does not like to use the word die, he always says "When I close my eyes." If you are over seventy years of age closing your eyes one day must cross your mind once awhile, especially when you know and hear that people younger than you close their eyes daily.

An uncle once said, "There is no guarantee a pregnant woman would give birth to a healthy child, but right after that child is born, he or she is sentenced to die one day." It took me a few decades to really understand what my uncle was trying to say many moons ago. Death is a debt everyone must pay no matter how nice, beautiful, or good looking you are. No one lives forever. Just because you don't talk about death or dying does not mean it won't happen to you. You must as well be prepared for it, especially if you have children, loved ones, and friends you love and hopefully love you in return.

I said hopefully love you too because there is a saying, "You can be sure whom you love, but you cannot be too sure who loves you." Love is a complicated word with different definitions by different people. There is also various levels, and degrees of positive feelings or affection for someone. It is possible to love someone very much as neighbor for several years, but is that love to a level you wouldn't mind burying that person when he or she dies?

I talked to ten friends and neighbors over seventy years of age about dying. Here are what I found out:

- Every one of them admitted that dying crosses their minds once awhile.
- Six out of ten of those people said they are ready to die at any time. I was expecting more to say they are ready.
- A follow up question to those that claimed they are ready for death was,

"Do you have a "Will" or instructions for your children, family, or friend(s) on what you want after you close your eyes?" Four out of those six answered positively. One of them said he does not care how his two daughters bury him - he has funds for them to bury him. The sixth person said he plans to write few instructions for his only son soon.

- Three out of those ten people do not have a "Will" or instructions for their loved ones. One of them with three children from two different women, said he does not want to even think about a "Will" or instructions.

- One person admitted she has no children or relatives alive that would bury her. Her younger sister died about two years ago, after Covid arrived in America. She also did not have any offspring. I know it is very difficult for someone without loved ones to think about death, but you should at least let a close friend know the County or State must bury you. I wish everyone dies peacefully.

Christmas on the Pennsylvania Farm

By Lil Miller (Copywriter Yana Vardanyan)

When the real picture of Christmas was still in my head, I was only 12. My Italian family gathered together — the crowded house where we had to share beds, rugs, and blankets — happy times in anticipation of the most important event of the year. We heard bells and rings in the dark, and my uncle didn't let us peak out the window! We had to get to bed, or else we wouldn't get our presents from Santa. Santa was on the roof with this huge bag of gifts, Rudolph cut his leg, and the blood was on the snow. The mystery of that magical night still lives with me. Oh, my creative uncle, Santa, and his little donkey in this furry costume, which we naively believed to be Rudolph, a reindeer. Magical spirit, crisp air, and the effort of my uncle to create that fairytale for

FROM THE ADMINISTRATOR

By Bruce Bandler

The Holiday Season is upon us, the excitement is building and the activity level here at “home” is reminiscent of the good old days! Welcome back all seasonal residents; please join your friends and neighbors for what promises to be “a long-awaited return to normal!”

Management is happy to announce the reopening of all offices where, for your convenience, in-person resident services have resumed. Nothing compares to that personal touch only face-to-face contact provides. I think we all missed that interaction more than we realized and we look forward to serving you!

Many new faces in the community prompted the return of the “New Resident Orientation Seminar.” Hosted by Management and the Administrative Team on the first Tuesday of each month, I think you’ll find this presentation both interesting and informative. It will provide you with a complete overview of the Wynmoor way of life. You’ll also have the opportunity to meet the Administrator’s team of professionals who will be happy to answer any questions or address any concerns you may have.

Board the bus for an educational and enjoyable experience as we combine history and scenery in our “Tour of Wynmoor!” We have found there is a great deal of interest among our resident population in learning about how we got here; in response to many requests, we have scheduled a monthly bus tour on the first Wednesday of each month. The bus will depart from the Country Club at 10:00 a.m. Reservations are required and can be made at www.wynmoorlife.com.

While we’re on the subject of enjoyment, check out the Entertainment Schedule this month. The Theatre is back in full swing offering first-class live shows for a thrilling entertainment experience. Check out the full schedule in this issue. Buy your tickets now while they’re still available. For your convenience, the Box Office is open every Monday from 9:00 a.m. until noon and from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. as well as on Wednesday morning from 9:00 a.m. until noon.

Looking for a place to celebrate New Year’s Eve? Well...look no more. With two planned parties, get a group together and come on down to the Grand Ballroom in the Country Club or, if you prefer a slightly smaller crowd, we’ll be hosting a party in the West Wing as well. Reservations are underway with a $15 ticket price for either location. Additional details can be found inside this issue.

A special “thank you” to both our Grounds and Building Maintenance Departments. Their expediency in preparation for the potential effects of “Nicole” proved, once again, Wynmoor is fortunate to have a “first-class” work force.

Wishing you all a safe, happy, and healthy Holiday Season; Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukkah, and all best wishes for the New Year!

Bruce Bandler, Administrator

Give the Gift of Creek's Best Kept Secrets This Holiday Season

By Laura McDermott Matheric

As residents of Coconut Creek, we know what a gift it is to live in this town. Throughout this city, there are wonderful delights that surprise even the longest of residents. Hosted by the Women's Club of Coconut Creek, The Butterfly Garden Tour is a fun way to find out what gifts and talents residents have used to promote ecofriendly practices on their properties. This will be an enjoyable presentation for those curious to discover what a gift to the community their Creek neighbors are.

This is a self-guided adventure that will begin at City Hall where pre-registered participants receive a wristband and a secret map listing 12 properties to drive to throughout the city. Included in the tour are murals and orchid walls, a front yard edible farm, a native tree house, a horse farm, rose gardens, butterfly gardens, sculpture gardens, a suburban orchard, and water features. There's even a secret garden within one of the secret gardens!

"The gardens are important to see, and this is a great incentive to get residents out and into the outdoors," says Commissioner John Brodie. "It is also a good way see what native plants can attract. And playing off the city's Arbor Day initiatives, this program extends from our current efforts."

The tour ends in Veterans Park that honors those who served, and then leads to the city's Hometown Market for eats, drinks, gardening tools and accessories.

"A garden tour throughout Coconut Creek is a great idea, and I'm happy that the Women's Club of Coconut Creek is planning this," says city Urban Forester Sharon Vollmer.

As we enter the holiday season, consider gifting loved ones and friends this educational expedition that highlights the best kept secrets of Coconut Creek.

The Butterfly Garden Tour of Coconut Creek takes place Saturday, March 4, 2023, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., and proceeds throughout the city's 12 square miles. For more details about this event and to purchase tickets, visit www.eventbrite.com/o/womens-club-of-coconut-creek-55812470493. For more information about the Women's Club of Coconut Creek, visit their website at www.WomensClubCoconutCreek.com.

Wynmoor WOODSHOP

By Ernest Fleury

In March 2022, the Wynmoor Woodworking Club donated $5,000 to the Coconut Creek Education Foundation. The Foundation will distribute the funds in the form of a scholarship to qualified Coconut Creek students seeking a career in any discipline of Vocational Education. A letter of appreciation is proudly displayed in the left display window of the shop.

Nominations of the 4 officers and the 6-member Executive Board are now being accepted. Nominations will be announced at the December 2nd meeting. Voting will be held at the January 6, 2023 meeting, and the names of the elected officers will be announced. Members are encouraged to participate.

Wynmoor residents regularly stop by the shop with all kinds of minor repair work from chairs to kitchen drawers. If it's made of wood, we could!

If the Woodshop were to display all the crafts that our members produce monthly, we would need two pages. This month we randomly selected some of the most recent creations.

1. This tanker truck was left at the front door of the Woodshop one morning in a Whole Foods shopping bag. When it was still there at 3:00 p.m. one of the members looked into the bag and found this unfinished wood truck. Research found that it was of Amish origin and worth $59 unfinished. Ernie tightened the wheels and prepped it for Marty Levin to perform his magic. He finished it with lacquer paint, 2 mirrors, a grill and finished it with Water-based poly gloss.

2. This 8" x 9" bowl was created by Dave Norcross from a 12" Cataphylln log and finished with 2 coats of Danish oil and 6 coats of poly gloss. His lighthouse in this photo is incomplete, but in the next publication he will have added two houses, a skiff, grass, a rock-stone foundation and a bright harbor light to guide the ships safely into Freetown Mass. Harbor.

Dave used the Lichtenberg electromagnetic technique, a microwave element attached to two electrodes to create the unique effect on his 3-tier white oak lazy Susan.

3. Displayed by their proud creator, these 2 shallow bowls or dishes are made from 4 separate segmented circles of exotic hardwoods. The box (if there is a lid on a bowl it is called a box) consumed more than 40 hours of Karl Georgi's time. All three of these treasures have 2 coats of Danish oil and 12 coats of poly gloss.

4. This 14" x 30" painting belongs to Peter Charles who purchased it from a street vendor when he lived in Trinidad. Dave Norcross and Ernie fashioned a solid ash frame to compliment the life-like deep green hues.

5. Ernie and a frame he made.

6. Everett Yankee created this extra-large bud vase with a glass insert for live flowers from a mahogany limb. The mini candy dish was once part of the limb. Yank doesn't smoke anymore, but his church Pastor smokes cigars. Yank made a cigar humidor, holder with a built-in tip cutter from Certified Bethlehem Olive Wood. Yank even sprang for a $30 dollar cigar for the Pastor who will put in a good word with his Boss!

7. Steve Gleimer, Shop Treasurer, is displaying just three of the many items that he has created this year. Here he showcases a napkin caddy equipped with condiments ready for the dining room table or out on the patio. Steve's lazy Susan features 4 trivets for hot foods and finally, a neat variety of cute piggy banks for the little ones in his family.

Revocable Living Trust Important For Out of State Property

By Martin Zevin, Attorney

Are you a snowbird just returning to Florida for the winter? Some of my clients have their homestead in Florida; others declare their legal residence in another state.

In either case, a Revocable Living Trust is very useful to avoid probate in both states. If you are a Florida resident, you can own your homestead property via a Revocable Living Trust without losing your homestead exemption. In addition, you are eliminating the need for probate when you pass away. You can also transfer real estate owned in any other state to your Florida Trust. Generally, a Florida lawyer will prepare the Revocable Living Trust and Quit Claim Deed to transfer the Florida property into the Trust. If you are a Florida resident, the lawyer will also prepare a new Florida Last Will and Testament called a Pourover Will. This provides for the transfer to your Trust upon your death of any other assets not in the Trust or which do not have beneficiaries already designated. It is a security blanket to cover any assets payable to your Estate. For example, if you were killed in a car accident due to the negligence of another driver, your Personal Representative would be able to settle your Estate's claim and "pourover" the proceeds into your Trust.

If you are not a Florida resident, you can still create a Revocable Living Trust and execute a Quit Claim Deed to put your Florida property into the Trust. Your Last Will and Testament will be done by a lawyer in the state in which you have your legal residence. In addition, that lawyer can prepare a Deed to transfer the out of state property into the Florida Trust. You can also do the Trust in your state of residence and have a Florida lawyer transfer your Florida property to that Trust.

For Canadian citizens, there are possible tax aspects to be considered before you create a Florida Trust. These should be discussed with your Canadian accountant or tax attorney. In general, you will have to weigh the tax consequences versus the money and time that your heirs would save by avoiding probate in Florida.

Another favorable factor in creating a Revocable Living Trust is that you can always amend the Trust without having to change the Deed. In addition, once you create the Trust, you can always buy new properties in any state in the name of the Trust.

The Revocable Living Trust is recommended by most lawyers over a Deed which includes names of other persons, either as joint tenants, tenants in common or a Life Estate Deed. Once another person's name is on a Deed, there are potential risks to you and your property. These include the possibility that the other person may undergo a divorce, bankruptcy, have a judgment against them, or die before you or with you in a common accident. It may also affect your homestead exemption. All of these risks should be discussed with your attorney before deciding to put someone else's name on your Deed. By contrast, the Revocable Living Trust eliminates those risks, since no other name is on the Deed. You simply transfer it from yourself to yourself as Trustee of your Trust.

This article covers only some basics regarding Revocable Living Trusts and Deeds. For further information, please feel free to contact me. During this time of "social distancing," I have been consulting with clients via phone, e-mail and regular mail. In the past, my free initial consultation would normally be a personal meeting. Holiday Scams to Watch Our For...And Remember Our New Non-Emergency Phone Number

As we are now well into the holiday season it's important to remember a few of the scams we always see around this time of year:

Too Good To Be True: Remember that if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. If that name-brand sweater you found on some obscure on-line shopping website is half the price you find it at the store, then there's probably a reason. It's a scam. If someone on-line claims to have that hot toy item you want to buy your grandkids, and it's amazing because you can't find that toy anywhere else on-line or at the store because it's always sold out, remember there's a reason for that "good luck"- it's a scam.

"Hello... Grandma?": It's always around this time of year that there's an uptick in reports of the "Grandparents" scam. This is where your supposed grandchild calls out of the blue and needs holiday money because they're in some sort of need. They pretend to need travel money to make it back home. They claim that they're in trouble and need money for a lawyer. It's the scammers pretending to be your grandkid. With a little Internet sleuthing, the bad guys can find your grandchild's name. Never send any money without checking with another family member first.

"I'm sorry... I'm busy that night": We always recommend to conduct all transactions in person. If you find an item you want to buy a loved one as a gift for the holidays, and the seller keeps making excuses as to why he or she can't meet you in person, we say skip the transaction. Our lobby at 4800 West Copans Road is a designated "Safe Zone" where you can conduct in-person buying and selling. If the seller is legit, he or she won't mind meeting you in the police department lobby.

Porch Pirates: Package thieves love this time of year because of all the on-line shopping that we do nowadays. If you tell UPS, FedEx, or the Post Office to leave a package you've purchased at your front door, then it's a target for these "porch pirates" who might walk up and steal it. Be sure to use all of the delivery service's tracking technology. See about having the package delivered directly to the store and go pick it up there. Ask your boss if you can have it delivered to work. If you're not home, ask a trusted neighbor to grab it for you.

Don't forget that we have a new non-emergency phone number: Early in November, we joined the City of Coral Springs E-911 dispatching services. This changed our non-emergency phone number to 954-346-4400. Go ahead and save that number in your phone so you'll have it handy. It's not designed to call during an emergency. That number is still 911. However you can call it if you see an injured animal, or a stalled out car at an intersection... just to name a couple of examples. The move over to Coral Springs dispatch has been coming along well and we look forward to continuing to work together with our new dispatchers to make a difference here in Coconut Creek.

all the kids left such a deep imprint in my memory. Even today, at 95, when I go back to those days, my soul feels overwhelming joy and excitement about what's coming. I passed the family traditions to the following three generations of my family, and this all goes back to one person, the biggest kid of our family, my long-gone dear uncle Pascuale. Every year around Christmas time, we all think of our one-of-a-kind generous Santa who made all the kids in the family believe that they had the best behavior throughout the year to deserve all these presents. Thank you, dear uncle, for the living memory we have.

What If? Then What?

By Pete Hardis

I have always been an obsessive compulsive person. It is not pleasant to have to wash my hands over and over again, never thinking they are completely germ free. There are so many other things I obsess about, making me feel as though I'm a prisoner within the world I live in. However there is something I obsess about more than anything else, and that is what if things weren't the way they are, then what would there be in their place?

I would like to give you an example from the hundreds of what ifs, then whats that constantly are on my mind and drive me crazy.

What if everyone was born not only with two eyes in front of their head but also with eyes in the back of their head? Then what? The prospect of this happening scares me because the one thing I hate more than anything else is getting poked in the eye. If I had eyes in the back of my head I would have two additional eyes that could be poked forcing me to cover them up to protect me from getting poked. Then what would be the advantage of having eyes in the back of my head in the first place?

Another thing that bothers me about everyone having eyes in the back of their head is that one of the most favorite things in my life that I love to do is sneak up on people, cover their eyes and say, "guess who?" If these people had eyes in the back of their head, they will see me sneaking up on them and probably turn around and quickly punch me in the nose taking all the fun out of sneaking up on them.

I assume that by now, without you rolling your eyes, you can understand why this what if, then what obsession I have prevents me from living any kind of a normal life.

Uh, oh, do I sense my telling you all of this, you think I'm some kind of a crazy nut? What if you do, then what? What I'm afraid of is that you are going to, behind my back, start telling people how crazy you think I am. Perhaps having eyes in the back of my head wouldn't be such a bad idea after all, that way I would have a better chance of catching you doing that.

COLA is Sweet for Social Security Recipients

If you receive Social Security, you've probably already heard that your checks in 2023 will be bigger – considerably bigger, in fact. How can you make the best use of this extra money?

Here's what's happening: For 2023, there's an 8.7% cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) for Social Security benefits – the largest increase in 40 years. Also, the monthly Medicare Part B premiums are declining next year, to $164.90/month from $170.10/month, which will also modestly boost Social Security checks for those enrolled in Part B, as these premiums are automatically deducted.

Of course, the sizable COLA is due to the high inflation of 2022, as the Social Security Administration uses a formula based on increases in the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W). So, it's certainly possible that you will need some, or perhaps all, of your larger checks to pay for the increased cost of goods and services. But if your cash flow is already relatively strong, you might want to consider these suggestions for using your bigger checks:

- Reduce withdrawals from your investment portfolio. When you're retired, you will likely need to withdraw a certain amount from your portfolio each year to meet your expenses. A boost in your Social Security may enable you to withdraw less, at least for a year. This can be particularly advantageous when the markets are down, as you'd like to avoid, as much as possible, selling investments and withdrawing the money when investment prices are low. And the fewer investments you need to sell, the longer your portfolio may last during your retirement years.

- Help build your cash reserves. When you're retired, it's a good idea to maintain about a year's worth of the amount you'll spend from your portfolio in cash, while also keeping three months of your spending needs in an emergency fund, with the money kept in a liquid, low-risk account. Your higher Social Security checks could help you build these cash reserves. (Also, it's helpful to keep another three to five years' worth of spending from your portfolio in short-term, fixed-income investments, which now, due to higher interest rates, offer better income opportunities.)

- Contribute to a 529 plan. You could use some of your extra Social Security money to contribute to a tax-advantaged 529 education savings plan for your grandchildren or other family members.

- Contribute to charitable organizations. You might want to use some of your Social Security money to expand your charitable giving. Your generosity will help worthy groups and possibly bring you some tax benefits, too.

While it's nice to have these possible options in 2023, you can't count on future COLA increases being as large. The jump in inflation in 2022 was due to several unusual factors, including pandemic-related government spending, supply shortages and the Russian invasion of Ukraine. It's quite possible, perhaps even likely, that inflation will subside in 2023, which, in turn, would mean a smaller COLA bump in 2024.

Nonetheless, while you might not want to include large annual COLA increases as part of your long-term financial strategy, you may well choose to take advantage, in some of the ways described above, of the bigger Social Security checks you'll receive in 2023. When opportunity knocks, you may want to open the door.

Chess Club

By Hillel Cohen

The Wynmoor Chess Club is pleased to announce the beginning of the new season. We get together every Wednesday from 3:00 to 5:30 p.m. outside on the Clubhouse Patio (The Cove). All chess players at any level are welcome and no partner is needed. There are no dues and no fees. Chess sets are provided. Games are casual and relaxed so come outside and play. Masks are optional. If you haven't played in a while (or even a very long while), don't worry - no one's keeping score or rankings. The point is to have a pleasant afternoon while exercising our brain.

This eclectic group will keep you on the dance floor with their nonstop, upbeat, melodious sounds. Hadassah

By Toby Norman

Our November General Meeting started out a little unorthodox, but proved to be very interesting. The Medical Director of Trustbridge spoke about the way to make life interesting and relatively pain free till the end for the patient, and therefore, the family. Our business meeting was then held after the Speaker due to time restraints.

We have many interesting functions on the horizons so watch the flyers on the carousel outside of the library behind the Ballroom.

SAVE THESE DATES: We start the year off with a bang! Our HMO Brunch is on January 4th in the West Wing. You can contact Naomi Freed at 954-970-1001 for further information or see our flyer on the carousel outside of the library. This is always a good time so get your reservations in early!

Our next Card Party will be held in the West Wing here at Wynmoor on January 22nd. Please form your tables and contact Lenae Herman at 561-445-1595. She will be glad to assist you in any way she can. If you are a person without a game, don't despair, Lenae might be able to join you with others who do not have a game either. Any type of game will do as long as it is alright with your group. Men, feel free to join us. A lively game of poker might wake the whole room up! Your admission price includes a dairy box lunch and any other "goodies" that might come up.

Our guest Lecturer on February 13th, will be Harry Getzov who chose the topic How To Say I Love You. This should be really good! Look for flyers on the carousel outside of the library or contact Lenae Herman 954-657-8579 who can fill you in on the details. A lecture by this person will fill up fast. Since the seating is limited in the Lecture Hall, act promptly. Wine and cheese will be served first (at 6:30 p.m.) in the Cove. This will be the time to visit with your friends before you join Harry at 7:00 p.m.

REMINDER: Please support Hadassah by purchasing trees or certificates for any occasion from Bernice Riback. She can be reached by calling 954-984-1703. She is always glad to assist you in any way she can. Your continued support is always greatly appreciated.

Mondays and Tuesday's fee of a dollar is requested, no charge on Thursdays. The money collected is used to purchase balls, so they always play with new balls and the surplus funds are used for pizza parties.

The required skill level is 3.0 – meaning being able to serve, and return serve effectively and to maintain one's part in a rally. If this describes your ability, please come, and join the players for exercise and socializing under the lights.

BOOK SIGNING

By Lynne List

Wednesday, December 19th, is the date to mark on your calendar. I will be personalizing my new book "Tomorrow is Today" in the Clubhouse Library from noon until 2:00 p.m. Both the paper back and hard cover copies will be available at discount prices. However, there are only a limited number of copies, so come early to insure you do not miss out.

This is a must read romantic domestic suspense novel that has a shocking conclusion. The reader will be astonished when the mystery is unraveled. An idyllic marriage is disrupted when romantic messages are sent to an unsuspecting, or so she says, wife. Her husband believes she is having an affair and he acts out violently. But, is she really unfaithful as he suspects or is she innocent as she protests? If she is not having an affair, who is sending the romantic email messages? If she has a lover, who is he? Discovering the truth takes the reader down many paths of possibilities and challenges one's idea of marital trust.

Both books are also available on Amazon and Barnes and Noble. What would be a better holiday gift than a good book?

I look forward to seeing you at the signing.

POETRY

Relax Relax

By Lil Miller

My doctor said
Relax relax
My family said
How do you do that
With such a busy head
Is there a formula in print?
That I have not read
I wish I knew so I could Just read it and Hit the bed and
Just sleep
Tis busy body
Til it is relaxed
And fresh to be busy
All over again.
Relax my friend and
Have a Happy Thanksgiving Day

and the lord came down

By Norman Cohen

And the lord came down
In some desolate place
And said to the world
“ye shall know my people”

Dessert sands
Her birth song
Before pyramids
Searching for a heaven
Messiah in light
From cosmic dust
Embracing lives
Cupped in hand
On this rock in the sky

Talmudic memories
In church cities
Holy sabbath
Sweet seeds of love
Songs from the east
Cries for homeland

Ash spirals
On gray clouds
Yellow stars patched
On bodies
Murdered
On killing grounds
Masters of death
Days of horror
Bullets and blood trenches
Saluting the lie
Swearing oaths
Racing into a black wind
Making spires of rubble
Pounding black streets
To sounds of the dying

They, the prophets
Now silenced in pain
Claiming the sick and dying
Empty skeletons
Crying for Adonai

What have I done?

(note*) The Lord was taken to the Celestial Court of Justice. The high court found him guilty of forsaking his people. He was sentenced to wander across the cosmos without end. Planet Earth, beginning in 2053 A.D. would quicken its normal dissolution and eventually disappear. Planet Etiritos, on galaxy CR40823 would then become the place for the newly appointed Lord to find a chosen life form.

2023 Homestead Exemption

By Marty Kiar

All qualified Florida residents are eligible to receive a Homestead Exemption on their homes, condominiums co-op apartments, and certain mobile home lots. To qualify for Homestead Exemption, you must own and make the property your permanent residence on January 1 of the year for which you are applying for this valuable exemption. Pursuant to Florida law, all assessments and exemptions are based upon the status of the property on January 1. If you purchased and/or made the property your permanent residence in 2022 and have not applied for Homestead Exemption, you can apply for 2023 exemptions at any time – there is no need to wait until 2023 to file your exemption application with the property appraiser’s office. You can easily apply online at <https://web.bcpa.net>

The timely deadline to file for all 2023 exemptions is March 1, 2023. You must make the property your permanent residence by

January 1, 2023 in order to qualify; however, you have until March 1 to timely file your application with the property appraiser’s office. The late filing deadline for all 2023 exemptions is September 18, 2023. For information about all the other exemptions available to qualified applicants, please visit the “Exemptions & Classifications” page on our website <https://web.bcpa.net/bcpaclient/#/Homestead>

Once approved, your Homestead Exemption automatically renews each year provided there is no change in the ownership or use of the property. If you have already applied and been approved for Homestead Exemption at your current property, you do not need to reapply for this exemption. You will receive a Homestead Exemption renewal card next month to keep for your records.

If you have any questions about Homestead Exemption other exemptions, please call 954-357-6830 or email me at martykiar@bcpa.net.

East is East and West is West

By Marcus Smith, Licensed Acupuncture Physician

In ancient China, people visited their doctor regularly and paid him to keep them healthy. If they got sick, they stopped paying him until their health was restored. Go figure.

This arrangement was one of necessity, in that when a patient was sick, they were usually unable to work and if they weren't working, they had no income with which to pay the doctor. It was in the doctor's financial interest to keep his patients healthy. Prevention was viewed as the highest form of medicine and the most esteemed doctors were the ones with few sick patients.

Here in the West, we do things differently. We incentivize doctors to treat our complaints rather than cure or prevent the illness which is causing them. We pay them to prescribe medications that suppress our symptoms and create other symptoms and illnesses for which we are then given different medications and the cycle continues. The root cause of our illness is seldom addressed, and we are made into lifelong patients who must see our doctors on an ongoing basis to monitor and manage our medication. This reflects the influence that large pharmaceutical companies have on our healthcare system. They sponsor most all the current medical research being done, and dictate, through their sponsorship, what medical students are taught and how they are trained in becoming doctors.

I am NOT suggesting that Western medicine is bad or that anyone should stop taking prescribed medication.

But I think patients would be better served by their healthcare providers if a more comprehensive approach to care were adopted. The ideal model would be one where each person is viewed as a unique individual, and an honest attempt is made to empower that individual with the information and tools necessary to make optimal lifestyle choices which help maintain the highest state of health and well-being possible. This could include dietary assessment and appropriate recommendations for using food as medicine as well as the incorporation of safe and effective herbal supplements. It may include alternative or complementary medicine approaches such as acupuncture, functional medicine and naturopathy. Equally important would be the inclusion of exercise and mind-body practices such as TaiChi, Qigong, and yoga, which, through simple breathing, movement and mindfulness, help maximize the subtle self-healing mechanisms our bodies inherently possess. In the large teaching hospitals of China today, it is not uncommon to find an auditorium filled with cancer patients, for example, all being directed and led in breathing and movement exercises (Qigong) as an integral part of their care.

This model outlines how most acupuncture physicians are currently trained in the US. If you are tired of constantly changing medications and dealing with their side-effects or getting cortisone shots which help only temporarily or not at all, or if you have been told by your doctor that nothing else can be done for you and that you must simply "learn to live with it," whatever "it" is, it is important for you to know that other options may be available.

For more information about acupuncture and how it may benefit you, please visit our website at MarcusSmithAcupuncture.com or call us directly at 954-907-1036.

Balance and Aging ~ Resistance Training

By Ron Molino, Certified Personal Trainer

Hello again. Last month I covered the benefits and different methods of resistance training. One of the safest and easiest ways of doing resistance training is with tubing. Tubing come with handles in different amounts from 10 pounds, to 100 pounds of resistance in 10 pound increments. We have them in the fitness center or you can purchase online or in sporting goods stores. They come in sets usually 10 to 50 pounds with ankle straps to do leg work. You can purchase them separately. The sets come with instructions on how to do some of the exercises, but there are literally dozens of exercises that can be done with the tubes.

You can work your whole body with tubing. Most of the exercises can be done alone, some need another person to help if you're able or confident to do them alone. I can answer some of your questions if you contact me at 954-673-6700. You don't need a lot of room to work with tubing and you don't have to pick up weights. If done correctly you will get great results, such as strength gains, flexibility and improvements in body composition. They can help with balance. On a personal note, I always played a lot of sports when I was young. When I was about 24 years old I started working out with weights and I have never stopped (my son was born that year, 1966). I turned 80 years old on November 20th. I work out five days a week for an hour and a half, I dance two nights a week and I'm told I have great posture. I believe that the weight training gets the credit. I hope this encourages you. Remember just keep moving. Until next time, good luck.

Our Focus Is On Excellent Service!

The Liberal Jewish Temple

By Iris Arlan

Just a reminder... Our next Service at Waterside Landing 5600 Lakeside Drive (one light west of Banks, off Coconut Creek Parkway) will take place on December 9th at 7:30 p.m. As always, everyone is welcome.

The "Song to Remember" Concert was a huge success. An afternoon of pure bliss and enjoyment was had by all who attended. Fortunately for us, but unfortunately for some of you, our concert with Rabbi Paul Offenkrantz was sold out. We are hoping that we will be able to plan another event sometime in the spring. Watch this paper for more information.

We are looking into a trip to a Museum and possibly a bus trip on the Thrifting Party Bus. Stay tuned. More to come.

Frederic J. Frommer had an interesting article in the "Forward" about the beginnings of the World Series. Let us go back to 1901 and 1902. The Pittsburgh Pirates won the National League Pennant in both years. Then, the players went home. See, there was no World Series or a post season matchup between the Champions of the two leagues.

The owner of the Pirates, Barney Dreyfuss, a Jewish immigrant, wrote to the owner of the Boston Americans, Henry Killea. He stated that it would be good for baseball, their leagues, and the players, besides helping the bottom line, to have a best of nine competitions.

Killea agreed and the World Series was born in 1903. Unfortunately for Dreyfuss, his team lost 5 games to three, with Cy Young winning two games for the Americans, now known as the Red Sox.

The American League began in 1900 and tried to raid players from the established National League. Dreyfuss helped to get an agreement between the two leagues and pushed for baseball to hire a commissioner to manage the sport.

In 2008, Barney Dreyfuss was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, New York.

Dreyfuss was born in Germany in 1865, coming to the U.S. when he was 19, sponsored by cousins in Kentucky, who owned a bourbon business. For exercise he started playing baseball as a second baseman.

Ever a businessperson, he organized semi-pro teams in Paducah, Kentucky, using workers from the distillery. That was followed by an investment in the Louisville Colonels of the American Association. That League merged with the National League. In 1899, Dreyfuss was the owner of his team.

Dreyfuss learned the National League paring down teams from 12 to 8, including his. He bought a half interest in the Pirates and brought along with him future Hall of Famers Honus Wagner, Rube Waddell and Fred Clarke.

In 1909 he built Forbes Field, one of the great stadiums.

He died in 1932.

WYNMOOR Golf and Tips

By Kevin Battersby, PGA

BALL POSITION REVIEW

Last month's article focused on successfully transitioning iron shots from the tee to fairway lies. The essence of the article was that the deepest point in the swing is contacting the ball first, then the turf. Shorter irons because the ball is further back in the stance allows the divot to be more in front of the ball also producing the highest trajectory.

By contrast, as the ball moves to the middle of your stance for your middle numbers, the divot is not as deep as your anticipating a middle trajectory.

Finally, for your driving the ball is positioned opposite your lead heel or in front of your spine with more weight on your trail foot to promote a level to slightly upward strike for a lower trajectory.

There are three trajectories required so there are also three ball positions to accommodate each.

On final note when watching lower handicapped players or professionals. They may not play the ball as far back on their irons because of their lateral shift of their weight. Famed teacher, Harvey Penick, suggested taking a practice swing with your irons and positioning ball at the back of the divot you made on that practice swing. Lastly, if you make a nice divot fill it with sand in Florida it is not necessary to replace the divot like northern courses.

ASK DR. JOY

By Joy Berke Sanchez Ph.D.

So, no questions in my mailbox this month. You will have to bear with me as I ramble about a subject that just keeps coming up in my discussions with people. Selfishness. Actually, this will be in part a small excerpt from a chapter in my book.

Being unselfish has been pounded into us forever. We have been told since we were tiny tots that selfishness was bad and we should avoid being that way. When we were children, it was often about sharing our precious possessions with another child. I remember when my first granddaughter was very young and I was babysitting. If she had a friend coming over I would advise her that anything she didn't want to share, she didn't have to but she would have to put it away somewhere and that anything left over was to be shared. It worked quite well. At least she never moved her entire toy room into her bedroom.

Of course, anyone telling you that you are being selfish usually means that you aren't doing what they want or giving them what they need. I have always found this rather amusing because it made me wonder just who was being selfish here. However, calling someone selfish is almost like cursing at them. This is so far from the way it really is and so many people are reluctant to understand and accept the true nature of what selfishness is. It is not about exploiting or taking advantage of anyone else. It is about taking care of ourselves. It is about understanding how much we matter. When you are questioning this or trying hard to be 'unselfish' you are in a state of inner conflict.

This is you trying to change yourself into something you were not meant to be. Once again, importantly, this does not mean or even insinuate, not caring about others or wanting them to give you whatever you want. That is not the definition of selfishness, it is the definition of narcissism.

I tell people I am selfish all the time. They really have no idea what I am talking about, especially because I don't appear mean or narcissistic. Because I am neither. But I am definitely selfish. I can't help anyone if I don't take care of myself first. And I understand that means looking for ways for me to feel happier, more at peace and emotionally stronger. For me, it also means that I don't keep a balance sheet. If I need a favor from someone who can't do it, I recognize that they can't do it. I don't expect people to put my needs before their own. It doesn't matter how you want to take care of yourself or what is important to you. The idea is to maintain your good feelings and your equilibrium regardless of what is happening around you.

I actually like and prefer to be with similarly healthily selfish people. I remember my mentor, Nathaniel Branden, saying that no one wants the fruit of someone else's sacrifice. I loved hearing that. I want to know that the person who wants to be with me or even do something for me is doing it because it is giving them pleasure. I don't want to use them to serve myself at their expense nor do I want to be used so they can serve themselves. This does not preclude or negate my doing something for someone else because I want to and it is a value to me to do so.

I hope this doesn't confuse anyone but you will most likely be able to tell why you want to be with someone and why someone wants to be with you, why you want to do something for someone and why they might be doing something for you. Your beliefs will be screaming at you to not be selfish and sacrifice your good feelings for the sake of those of another while your feelings are telling quite a different story.

Perhaps the first question to ask yourself is if you believe that you are supposed to be living your precious life for the well-being of someone else, not sometimes because you really want to, but at those times when you know you really don't want to but think you should. If your answer is yes, then go on to the companion question. Do you believe that someone else is supposed to live his or her precious life towards your well-being? Did you answer yes to that also, or did this question have you answering no? If you answered yes to the first and no to the second, ask yourself a third question. Why is their life so much more important than yours?

I would love to hear your views on this very controversial topic. Please write me with your questions or comments at JoyB212@aol.com It is all completely anonymous.

You've Tried The Rest, Now Try The Best Temple Beth Am, Margate

By Linda Storfer

It is that time of year when everything around us looks bright and all lit up. With all the darkness in the world today - the ongoing fighting and horrific war in the Ukraine, the threat of nuclear missiles from North Korea and Iran, the increased gun violence and mass shootings here at home - we desperately need some light and good cheer. We are now in official holiday season and in addition to all the beautiful Christmas lights and Chanukah menorahs (chanukiahs) that light up our homes we have a whole month to feel "light" and good hearted towards our fellow human beings. If we ever needed it, we surely need it now. As of this writing we have not had our mid-term elections in the Senate and Congress and our gubernatorial elections but by the time you read this it will all be behind us and decided. It would be great if everyone could come together and rally behind the victors and support American democracy. The month of December gives all of us a chance to take a little time out and be kind to our fellow human beings no matter what religion they practice.

Recently I met a woman named Barbara from Wynmoor in the card room who told me that she volunteers twice a week at Tradewinds Park in the Equestrian program helping young developmentally disabled children ride horses. What a great program this is - the children and their parents love it, and the volunteers find it very rewarding and meaningful. At Temple Beth Am we have numerous volunteers who deliver challah for the Sabbath while others deliver food once a month through Jewish Family Service to the elderly and food insecure people. There are so many ways you can get involved and do "random acts of kindness" by helping your fellow human beings. I guarantee that the recipients will appreciate your kindnesses but it will also make you feel good as well. I just finished reading a wonderful new book by Jodie Picoult entitled The Measure and came across a beautiful quote by the famous poet Ralph Waldo Emerson who said "It is not the length of life, but the depth of life. You do not need a long lifetime to make an impact on this world. You just need the will to do so." These inspirational words should give all of us food for thought.

Chanukah, the Festival of Lights begins at sundown on Sunday, December 18th with the candle lighting of the menorahs. This holiday, commemorates the oppression of the Jewish people in ancient times under Antiochus, the Syrian king. Judah and the Maccabees led the Jewish people in fighting the tyranny of the Syrian - Greek oppression. The miracle of Chanukah is that the oil in the holy Temple lasted for eight days instead of just one day. Please be sure to join us on Tuesday December 20th at 5:00 p.m. for a festive celebration at Temple Beth Am which will include candle lighting and latkes. The entire public is invited so be sure to attend and bring your friends. Our Men's Club is featuring Dr. Robert Wolf on Sunday, December 4th at 9:30 - 11:00 a.m. who will speak on his new book Not A Real Enemy: The Story of A Hungarian Jewish Man's Fight for Freedom. There will be a bagel and lox breakfast and the entire public including women are invited to hear this dynamic story. There are still some good seats left for the New Jersey-Panthers' hockey game on Wednesday, December 21st sponsored by our dynamic Men's Club. This is a great Chanukah gift to treat your grandkids and enjoy the fast-paced game together. Our Sisterhood is sponsoring a card and Mah Jongg game day on Sunday, December 11th. Come and join us and meet new friends as you enjoy a healthy and delicious brunch. Sisterhood is bringing back Wednesday morning Bingo every week. Please check our website www.beth-am.org for further details on the above events or call Alana at the Temple Beth Am office at 954-968-4545 for more information. Our synagogue is located minutes away at 7205 Royal Palm Blvd. in Margate and is open daily during the week from 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Dawn Time

*My night sleep is now ended, and my dreaming is done.
I've gently been awakened in my bed by the rising sun.
Not by a loud cry, a shout or a bang on my window frame
But by the red-yellow-orange sunbeams of an orb aflame.
Its heated and bright sunbeams are slowly burning the clouds away
And the shaded skies turn from grey to blue as they tout a new day.*

Daytime

*It is my awake time to be the who that I want to be.
To do all the things allowing me to fulfill my destiny.
Including to be active, to learn, to understand, to work and to grow.
To enjoy my family and friends, and to gain from reaping what I sow.*

Being active in this way informs my experience and fills my life with a zest

In a daytime's light which at dusk, dims as the sun gently sinks in the west.

Dusk Time

*My Dusk's light is lit by the Moon's glow in its quarter, half or full moon phase
Its soft yellow light is the sky's luminary that the then darkness of night it allays.
It is my time to rest, to enjoy the peaceful silence, to contemplate truths and lies,
To tire, to fall asleep, to dream, to awake, to walk in the park before the dew dries.
To age slowly in and betwixt my life's dawn and its dusk with a smile on my face
Doing so by not sweating the small things in life and by living that life with grace.*

*And it'll be then,
My Dawn again.*

The Rainbow's Sojourn

By Larry L. Band

*The rainbow is Mother Nature's colourful and arcing show
Hued from the palette of the sun's light and heated glow.
Painted on the deep blue canvass of the skies.
Emptied of clouds after Mother Nature cries
Nature's raindrop-prisms bend the sun rays into a visual banquet
Of a feast of the red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet.
Colours that suddenly appear and hang in the skies but for a minute,
Reminding us of earth's beauty and the fragility of all life that's in it.
One end of the rainbow rises from and stands on an earth's fold.
On the other, that bounty of colours empties into a pot of gold.
A beauty unequalled and appearing at the end of a storm.
Is symbolic of hope that the same will become Man's norm.*

Freedom From Bladder Problems

Hi!!! My name is Evette Weiss, I use to wake up 2 or 3 times a night to go to the bathroom. After treatments from Dr. Herman, I now sleep 7 or 8 hours per night without waking up to go to the bathroom. I had been leaking urine when I laughed, coughed or sneezed, but I no longer suffer from this problem. My goal is to help other men and women who may suffer from this embarrassing situation.

Dr. Craig Herman of the Urology Center of Florida can help you recapture your quality of life with NO PAIN, MEDICATION or SURGERY. His Imagine Therapy will help you regain the freedom to live your life the way you want to live it. Treatments are covered by most medical insurances and courtesy transportation is usually available.

Please call me, EVETTE at 561-364-8659 or on my cell phone 954-734-3449 if you would like to discuss or get additional information. Just Imagine, Freedom from Bladder Problems.

Service Equals Reward

Back To Business At BSO!

What a year it's been! As we turned the corner on the COVID-19 pandemic, the Broward Sheriff's Office (BSO) remained fully committed to our core mission of providing top-notch public safety services while continuing to create new and innovative programs and initiatives. We returned to hosting in-person community events, solving decade-old crimes, and improving critical training and educational opportunities for employees. Here are some of the highlights:

CONNECTING WITH THE COMMUNITY

After two years of limited in-person community interaction, BSO showed up in a big way. We hosted numerous important events, including our Shred-a-thon and Operation Medicine Cabinet events, National Night Out, town halls and other community centered events. These opportunities continue to build mutual trust and understanding with those we serve. Check our community events calendar on sheriff.org for dates and locations of upcoming events near you.

Check our community events calendar on sheriff.org for dates and locations of upcoming events near you.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

We awarded 76 deserving community-based non-profits a total of $930,000 in Law Enforcement Trust Funds (LETF). This was the most money given out in a single year under my leadership. These funds, which come from the forfeiture and seizure of contraband used in the commission of a crime, are given back to the community through organizations to further the mission of preventing crime and keeping our neighborhoods safe. To learn more about how your non-profit organization can apply for a future LETF grant, please visit sheriff.org and follow us on social media for future announcements on when applications are being accepted.

STRENGTHENING OUR 911 SYSTEM

Earlier this year, BSO succeeded in obtaining additional funding from the Broward County Commission to increase the salaries of our communications operators. This increase makes us competitive with surrounding public safety call centers and helps recruit and retain these critical employees. If you have a passion to serve and want a rewarding career, visit us at jobs.sheriff.org or contact our Recruitment Unit at recruitmentunit@sheriff.org.

CLOSING CASES

"Gone, but not forgotten" is the impetus behind BSO's dedicated Cold

Case Unit. Formed in 2019, the unit offers increased attention to unsolved cases, and this year the unit had incredible successes. In one instance, we identified and criminally charged a man known as the Pillowcase Rapist, who was responsible for many sexual assaults in the 1980s. In another, the unit solved the 1994 rape and murder of an 89-year-old woman. We also launched an exclusive Cold Case video series to uncover possible new leads and bring more exposure to these investigations. I encourage you to take some time to view the series on the Broward Sheriff's Office YouTube channel: <https://www.youtube.com/c/BrowardSheriffsOffice>. If you have any information about these crimes, please contact Broward Crime Stoppers at 954-493-TIPS (8477).

STAFF TRAINING AND EDUCATION

Training and education are paramount for operational preparedness and excellence in service. In 2022, BSO partnered with local universities to expand higher education opportunities for all personnel and increased participation in executive-level training courses. As sheriff, I must lead by example. This year, I was selected to participate and completed the FBI's prestigious National Executive Institute Leadership Course. I am also currently pursuing my Ph.D. at Nova Southeastern University. As an organization, we are on a mission to become the most academically credentialed agency in the state.

This year, we finalized plans for BSO's state-of-the-art training center, broke ground and construction crews are making tremendous progress. Upon completion, the 100,000+ square-foot facility will be the first dedicated onsite training facility in our organization's 107-year history. It will elevate our preparedness and enhance our public safety services to the Broward County community. Follow our progress on our Facebook and Instagram, @browardsheriffsoffice.

As we head into the holiday season, you will continue to see BSO out safeguarding your neighborhoods and getting to know our residents. Stop by and say hello!

On behalf of BSO's men and women, have a happy and safe holiday season! We'll see you in the new year.

Do you have a Birthday or Occasion coming up that you would like to share?

Email your message to wynmoorads@aol.com - attach a jpeg photo, and we will print it in the paper!

Enjoying Stellar Paintings and Fine American Art at The Norton

By Joseph Stella

and

By Barry Isaac

This review is dedicated to the Norton Art Museum’s fine collection of 20th Century American Art. On a pleasant Mid-October Saturday, I returned to the delightful Norton Art Museum in West Palm Beach, Florida. I stayed a full day as usual from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

I entered this treasure trove and segued to study its fine temporary, “Joseph Stella Visionary Nature” Exhibit (it ends January 15, 2023). Joseph Stella was born in Italy but spent much of his life in the United States and was a citizen of the United States. Joseph Stella’s Paintings reflect the joy he received from the plants that he studied at New York City’s Botanical Garden in the Bronx and his love of birds. Joseph Stella’s Paintings also depict his devotion to Catholicism and his Italian roots. Favorite paintings in this very comprehensive exhibit were; “Swan 2 Rainbow,” “Lyre Bird,” “Purissima” (devotional theme influenced by Italian Renaissance Paintings), “Smokestacks,” “Brooklyn Bridge,” “Banyon Tree,” and the very copiously botanical painting, “Tree of Life.”

The Norton Art Museum’s collection of 18th and 19th Century American Art on display is very limited, but I saw a delightful portrait by Gilbert Stuart worthy of encomium and a fine Florida Theme Painting by Thomas Moran, “Florida Scene.” As for the first half of the 20th Century, favorite

American Paintings of mine that day were; Edmund Tarbell’s “Eleanor Hyde,” a fine example of American Impressionism, Childe Hassam’s Impressionistic “Gloucester Harbor,” John Grabach’s “Sidewalks of New York City,” George Bellows’ “Winty Afternoon, Riverside Park, New York City,” Stuart Davis’ “New York City Mural” (somewhat political), Georgia O’Keefe’s “Pelvis With Moon, New Mexico,” William Glackens’ “Ocean With Two Figures,” Robert Henri’s “Orientale,” and Maurice Prendergast’s “Ramparts of St. Malo.”

Second half of the 20th Century paintings that especially captivated me were Wayne Thiebaud’s “Neapolitan Pie,” Fairfield Porter’s “Porch in Maine,” Roy Lichtenstein’s “Oh Allright” (quintessential American Pop Art), and Joan Brown’s “Self Portrait with Gorilla and Wolf.” I also saw fine mixed media creations by Contemporary American Artists, Nice Cave “Spacesuit,” Teresita Fernandez “Rise and Fall,” and Michalene Thomas “Naomi Looking Forward #2.”

The Norton Art Museum is open from Thursday through Tuesday and closed on Wednesday. Admission for seniors like myself is fifteen dollars. There is plenty of free parking near the Norton Art Museum. I hope you enjoy the Norton Art Museum as much as I do. Norton Art Museum 561-822-5196 for further information.

George Bellows Winty Afternoon

One of Joseph Stella’s paintings that I relished. It is a quintessential Joseph Stella painting.

Are You Living With, Or Worried About Someone Suffering With Chronic Back Pain?

By Leading Back Pain Expert, Todd James

Do you, or someone you love, suffer with back pain? Does the pain get worse when you stand or walk? Do you experience pain, numbness or tingling into your butt or down your leg? Do you have pain when you sit for long periods or drive? Are you afraid your pain will get worse if you don't do anything about it? Has the pain gotten so bad, that you avoid many activities that you used to enjoy?

If you are 55+ and answered YES to any of these questions, then please read on because I have some special information about relief of your back pain.

It's a shame so many people think their options for dealing with back pain are rest, pain killers, or maybe worse, injections or even surgery. Often these solutions are only temporary, because they don't address the true cause of your back pain, but just mask the symptoms. Others believe there is nothing that can be done, and they will just have to suffer through the pain.

If you or someone you love is experiencing back pain and are wondering if you are doing the right things for your back, I would like to offer a free guide I have created to answer those questions. In this guide, Erasing Back Pain: How to Avoid the 9 Most Painful Mistakes and What You Should Be Doing Instead, you will find information about what will not help ease your back pain and how to make the right choices to get you out of back pain and on the road to enjoying an active, healthy lifestyle again.

I'm Todd James, Physical Therapist and I have been helping 1000s of people 55+ over the last 2 decades find quick, natural, long lasting relief from back pain. I've put together this guide because in easing your back pain it's not just about doing the right things, but also about avoiding the wrong things. When you choose the right path, your recovery from back pain will be much more effective.

If you are currently held back from getting a good night's sleep, being able to walk with friends, getting out on the golf course, or playing with the grand-kids, I invite you to visit www.coconutcreektherapy.com/backpain to claim your free guide. If you prefer, give us a call at 954-972-1200 and we'll be happy to assist you.

Don't let back pain take the joy out of your life. Get started on your path to a pain free active life!
