A Message to Wynmoor Unit Owners

Understanding the 2027 Management Agreement

Dear Wynmoor Unit Owners:

As President of Wynmoor Community Council, Inc. (“WCC”), I believe it is important that every unit owner understand what the proposed 2027 Management Agreement is, why it is important, and how Wynmoor’s unique management structure benefits all of us.

The Management Agreement is a key part of what allows Wynmoor to operate efficiently and effectively as one community. It enables WCC and our 44 residential Associations to work cooperatively rather than requiring each Association to independently duplicate management, administrative, financial, maintenance, legal, insurance, and other services.

This Is a “We” Agreement

Perhaps the most important point to understand about the Management Agreement is one that can easily be overlooked:

Every Wynmoor owner is represented on both sides of the Agreement.

As a unit owner, you are a member of your individual condominium Association. At the same time, you are part of the greater Wynmoor community represented by Wynmoor Community Council.

For that reason, this is fundamentally different from a traditional contract between a condominium association and an unrelated outside management company. It should not be viewed as an “us versus them” arrangement.

It is a “we” agreement.

Both WCC and the 44 residential Associations ultimately exist to serve the same owners. While they have different responsibilities, they share the same fundamental objective: protecting the interests of Wynmoor’s owners and maintaining and improving the community we all share.

That cooperative relationship has been fundamental to Wynmoor’s success.

What Does the Management Agreement Do?

The Agreement defines the services WCC provides and establishes the respective responsibilities of WCC and each Association.

Through this structure, WCC provides or coordinates a broad range of services, including management and administration, financial accounting and recordkeeping, budget assistance, accounts payable and receivable, maintenance and property services, insurance administration, official records administration, purchasing and contract assistance, and access to legal resources.

A simple way to understand the relationship is:

The Association Board governs. WCC manages and administers.

The elected Board continues to make the decisions entrusted to it by Florida law and the Association’s governing documents. WCC provides the professional personnel, resources, information, administration, and operational support necessary to help the Board carry out those responsibilities.

Why Work Together as 44 Associations?

There is considerable strength in 44 Associations working together.

If every Association were required to independently duplicate the personnel, professional expertise, administrative systems, purchasing functions, accounting operations, maintenance resources, insurance coordination, legal resources, and other services currently available through WCC, the cost and complexity could be substantial.

The WCC structure allows these resources to be shared.

It also creates economies of scale, institutional knowledge, purchasing power, consistency, and access to specialized personnel that might otherwise be difficult or costly for an individual Association to maintain on its own.

Just as importantly, many issues affecting Wynmoor do not stop at the boundary of one condominium Association. Insurance, infrastructure, safety, maintenance, vendors, regulatory requirements, and other matters frequently have consequences for the larger community.

The Management Agreement provides the framework that allows WCC and the Associations to address those responsibilities together.

Why Is the Management Agreement Being Updated?

Wynmoor has evolved, and so have the responsibilities involved in managing a community of this size and complexity.

From the President

Florida condominium law has changed. Insurance requirements have changed. Technology and recordkeeping requirements have changed. Financial and regulatory responsibilities have changed. The operational needs of our Associations have also evolved.

The proposed 2027 Management Agreement is intended to provide greater clarity about the responsibilities of WCC and the Associations and to reflect how Wynmoor operates today.

The objective is not to take authority away from Association Boards. It is to clearly establish responsibilities, improve accountability and transparency, and ensure that WCC has the ability to effectively perform the management responsibilities entrusted to it by the Associations.

WCC Is a Not-for-Profit Organization

Another important part of understanding the Management Agreement is understanding what WCC is.

Wynmoor Community Council, Inc. is a not-for-profit organization.

WCC is not an outside, for-profit management company operating Wynmoor for the financial benefit of private owners or shareholders. Its purpose is to provide services for the Wynmoor community.

The funds collected through WCC’s budget are used to operate the organization and provide services to the Associations and the community.

Importantly, when WCC’s operations result in surplus funds, those funds remain for the benefit of the Wynmoor community and are applied as a credit to unit owners through the following year’s budget.

There are no outside shareholders receiving WCC’s operating surplus. The financial benefit stays within Wynmoor.

This is another reason the Management Agreement should not be viewed as a traditional negotiation between a customer and an outside management company. The Associations and WCC are ultimately working with the same owners’ money and toward the same objective.

Protecting Both the Individual Association and the Community

There will naturally be occasions when the interests or immediate needs of one Association must be considered alongside the interests of the other 43 Associations.

That is one of the reasons the Management Agreement is so important.

WCC has a responsibility to provide services to each individual Association while also protecting the interests of the community collectively. The Agreement establishes the framework for balancing those responsibilities while preserving the authority of each Association’s elected Board.

That cooperative structure has allowed Wynmoor to function as one community consisting of 44 individual Associations, rather than 44 communities attempting to operate independently of one another.

What Does This Mean for You?

For the individual unit owner, the Management Agreement provides the organizational structure through which your Association has access to professional management, accounting and financial administration, maintenance resources, insurance coordination, legal resources, purchasing assistance, institutional knowledge, and numerous other services.

At the same time, your elected Association Board retains its responsibility to govern your Association.

It allows the individual Associations to maintain their independence while receiving the benefits that come from belonging to a much larger and stronger community.

One Community, One Shared Interest

The Management Agreement is ultimately about cooperation.

We may live in different buildings and belong to different Associations, but we share Wynmoor. Decisions involving insurance, maintenance, financial administration, infrastructure, safety, regulatory compliance, and the long-term condition of our community ultimately affect all of us.

“How can WCC and our Association work together to best serve the owners we both represent?”

That is the philosophy underlying the proposed Agreement.

I encourage owners and directors to review the Agreement, ask questions, and seek clarification about provisions they may not understand. Constructive questions are welcomed because an informed community is essential to good governance.

Thank you for taking the time to understand this important Agreement and the cooperative structure that has helped make Wynmoor the community it is today.

September is also a solemn time to remember and honor the lives lost on September 11, 2001. This year marks the 25th anniversary of that tragic day—a quarter century since an event that forever changed our nation and our world. It remains a powerful reminder of both the fragility of peace and the enduring strength found in unity.

As we pause to reflect on this significant anniversary, we hold in our hearts the memories of those whose lives were lost, the families and communities forever affected, and the courageous first responders and everyday heroes who answered the call to serve.

Twenty-five years later, we continue to honor their memory and the extraordinary spirit of unity that emerged in the face of unimaginable loss. May this day inspire us to come together—as neighbors, as a community, and as a nation—with compassion, unity, and resolve.

Celebrate Labor Day safely and meaningfully, and may the coming fall season bring good health, happiness, and harmony to you and your loved ones. Wishing everyone blessed holy days.

Thank you for your ongoing support and commitment to making Wynmoor a wonderful place to call home.

GOD BLESS,

Jackie Railey

Is A College Degree Necessary?
What Do You Tell Your Grandchildren?

By Mobolaji Adedoyin

Over the last two decades, there were numerous discussions as to whether a college degree is still necessary or not. While I was thinking about writing this article, I interviewed four college graduates sixty-five years old, two fifty plus years in age, and four that graduated from college about five years ago. All college graduates I interviewed said they did not regret having a college degree. They all agreed there is something positive from that experience of going to college. Some of them claimed the discipline and experience of going through college also gave them a psychological satisfaction and occasional bosting rights of being college graduates. Most of them are proud they attended college and that gave them some confidence and the ability to talk about anything in public even if they don’t really know what they are talking about. Most of them claimed a college degree “opened doors” for them in various professions, including those professions they never dreamt they would ever be.

I know someone with a college education could apply for a job that does not require a college degree, however someone without a degree could not apply for a position that requires a degree. A college graduate has more options in the job market if he is desperate to get any job to temporarily survive.

In 1979, after graduate school with a major in Finance, I was desperate for any job to put a roof over my head and my daughter’s head. I did not have a sugar daddy or mommy. I applied for a management trainee position at McDonald’s Corporation with only my ungraduated degree on my resume. I flipped hamburgers at McDonald’s in Washington D.C. for five years before I found a career job in Bank Supervision and Regulations. A college degree will not hurt anyone but someone without a degree may regret not having that later in life. In New York, a neighbor’s son was not considered for a promotion into a managerial position because he did not have a college degree. He was with that company for twenty-four years and he could manage that company in his sleep.

Going or not going to college is one of several choices in life - everyone has a dream, ambition or goal in life. For centuries people chose which profession they liked to pursue. That is how and why we now have different professions and even more specializations within many professions.

We know a college education is not necessary for certain jobs. Nevertheless, I will not discourage or try to convince someone not to go to college. We need more medical doctors, nurses, attorneys, engineers, accountants, veterinarians and psychologists. Over the last three decades, the demand for more psychologists and veterinarians have been increasing. We need more psychologists to treat millions of people with psychological and emotional problems, and we need more veterinarians to treat millions of cats, dogs and monkeys that give those people emotional support to cope with life.

In Wynmoor Village, we have many residents that really need dogs, cats, fish tanks, etc. for emotional support in order to maintain their sanity. Several positions in many Cities, States, and the Federal Government, that used to require high school graduates now demand college graduates. In New York City, only college graduates are now hired as caseworkers in the Department of Social Services Administration. For over fifty years, caseworkers in New York City were high school graduates.

During the past three decades, some individuals without college degrees were able to start businesses and made money and will continue to make lots of money. However, those businessmen hired and must continue to hire thousands of college graduates, (Accountants, Attorneys, Engineers, Marketing Managers, Psychologists, etc.), to help manage their companies.

Not every owner is ready to sell today. That is fine.

Some owners are:

- Ready to list soon
- Helping a family member plan
- Waiting for the right timing
- Unsure what their unit would actually sell for
- Thinking about selling later this year
- Curious about current value
- Comparing selling versus holding

The best time to understand your options is BEFORE you are under pressure.

A simple value review can help you decide what makes sense.

TIFFANY LAND IN WYNMOOR

By Enid G. Wolf-Schein

The Café on the Green was transformed into Tiffany Land on August 2nd when more than 50 ladies came dressed in black dresses with pearls and black hats emulating Audrey Hepburn in the film Breakfast at Tiffanys. The event was to celebrate Ilene Garland’s 85th Birthday. Each lady had their unique place card and was treated to an elegant brunch featuring quiche, croissants, fruit salad and Madeline cookies all made to order for the occasion. The color for the day was Tiffany Blue.

Happy Birthday
Ilene Garland!

Are You Living With, Or Worried About Someone Suffering With Chronic Back Pain?

By Leading Back Pain Expert, Todd James

Do you, or someone you love, suffer with back pain? Does the pain get worse when you stand or walk? Do you experience pain, numbness or tingling into your butt or down your leg? Do you have pain when you sit for long periods or drive? Are you afraid your pain will get worse if you don't do anything about it? Has the pain gotten so bad, that you avoid many activities that you used to enjoy?

If you are 55+ and answered YES to any of these questions, then please read on because I have some special information about relief of your back pain.

It's a shame so many people think their options for dealing with back pain are rest, pain killers, or maybe worse, injections or even surgery. Often these solutions are only temporary, because they don't address the true cause of your back pain, but just mask the symptoms. Others believe there is nothing that can be done, and they will just have to suffer through the pain.

If you or someone you love is experiencing back pain and are wondering if you are doing the right things for your back, I would like to offer a free guide I have created to answer those questions. In this guide, Erasing Back Pain: How to Avoid the 9 Most Painful Mistakes and What You Should Be Doing Instead, you will find information about what will not help ease your back pain and how to make the right choices to get you out of back pain and on the road to enjoying an active, healthy lifestyle again.

I'm Todd James, Physical Therapist and I have been helping 1000s of people 55+ over the last 2 decades find quick, natural, long lasting relief from back pain. I've put together this guide because in easing your back pain it's not just about doing the right things, but also about avoiding the wrong things. When you choose the right path, your recovery from back pain will be much more effective.

If you are currently held back from getting a good night's sleep, being able to walk with friends, getting out on the golf course, or playing with the grand-kids, I invite you to visit www.coconutcreektherapy.com/backpain to claim your free guide. If you prefer, give us a call at 954-972-1200 and we'll be happy to assist you.

Don't let back pain take the joy out of your life. Get started on your path to a pain free active life!

Because of those few lucky millionaires and billionaires that are successful without college degrees some people started to advocate that college education is no longer necessary. I would rather say a college education is not required for some jobs and professions. A trade school or a well-structured on-the job training will suffice for certain jobs.

No matter what you decide to tell your grandchildren, remember the society still needs medical doctors, lawyers, nurses, psychologists, veterinarians, engineers, marketing managers, supreme court justices etc. All those professions still require college degrees.

I Never Complain About
People Who Complain

By Peter Hardis

Even though I never complain, I would be the last person to complain about people who complain. The reason is because I love to listen to all the complaints they complain about. I feel very fortunate because there never seems to be a shortage of complainers for me to listen to.

It disturbs me that there are many people who dislike complainers. What I have found is that the very people who complain the most about complainers are some of the biggest complainers I have ever met.

A legitimate question you may want to ask me is why I like complainers so much? Before I answer that, I want to tell you... Uh-oh, did I just hear someone complain that I didn’t answer that question right away? I told you, I will answer the question shortly, but I wanted to first tell you something else and then I will answer the question. See what I mean about complainers? They can’t wait to complain the minute they think they have something to complain about.

Now where was I? Oh yes, this is what I was going to say before I was so rudely interrupted by a complainer. Whenever I meet someone I usually say, “Good morning, how are you today?” If that person responds with, “What’s the use of complaining?” I say to myself, “Bingo, this guy is going to make my day.” What I have found is that anyone who responds by saying, “What’s the use of complaining?”, I know that within a matter of minutes that person will start complaining.

Now back to the question about why I like complainers so much; It’s because if I combine the very best novels I have read with the very best movies I have seen and compare them to all the bemoaning, grumbling, whining, qvetching, and bellyaching that I have heard from people who have complained to me over the years, what I found is that their complaints are usually more interesting and more entertaining than all those books I have read, and all those movies I have seen.

I would like to give you some examples of some of the most interesting, if not the most bizarre complaints I have ever heard. Excuse me a second, did I just hear that guy, “The Complainer” who interrupted me earlier say, “Don’t waste my time telling me what you heard from complainers because whatever you are about to tell your readers, I have much more interesting complaints I could tell them than you can possibly come up with!” Yeah, I bet you can. “So, tell me, why didn’t it occur to you to write your own article about complainers rather than intruding me? You seem to be quite a complainer yourself and I don’t like it one bit. Why don’t you do me a big favor; don’t ever read anything I write about again, you nasty complaining jerk! You seem to me like the kind of person who would only understand books like ‘Dick and Jane.’ Apparently, you are not bright enough to understand the kinds of intellectually challenging things I write about. What a moron you are and I can’t wait to tell everyone what you did and how stupid you are!”

Oh my God, I think I just caught myself complaining. “Oh well, what’s the use of complaining?”

Wynmoor Ladies Golf Association (WLGA) continues to add fun activities to the club's weekly tournaments. In July, WLGA hosted a coed "Lemonade Scramble," which injected a refreshing note into our warm summer pastime. Many thanks to our league president's neighbors from Portofino for helping to serve the lemonade to our thirsty golfers on hole number seven.

In August, WLGA members played our league's first "Skins" Tournament, which introduced many of us to an enjoyable golf competition we had heard of, but never before played.

As of this issue's deadline, there were plans to initiate a new activity on a Sunday evening in August, "Bring Your Own BBQ" and golf, starting at 4:30 p.m.

Look for additional enjoyable events as we welcome Snowbirds back to Wynmoor. WLGA invites both 9-hole and 18-hole women golfers to join our exciting league. For more information, please contact WLGA league president, Karen Beckman at 262-374-2672.

Photos below were taken at our Lemonade stand on hole 7 during our refreshing summer thirst quenching event.

ACUPUNCTURE

East is East and West is West

By Marcus Smith, AP, Licensed Acupuncture Physician

In China’s not so remote past, people saw their doctors regularly and paid them to keep them healthy. If someone became ill, payments stopped until health was restored. This was practical as much as philosophical: when patients could not work, they often could not pay. It was therefore in the doctor’s best interest to prevent illness rather than treat it after the fact. Prevention was viewed as the highest form of medicine, and the most respected physicians were those whose patients rarely needed care.

Western medicine has developed along very different lines. Care is usually sought only after symptoms appear. Doctors are largely reimbursed for diagnosing and treating those symptoms, most often with pharmaceutical drugs. These medications can suppress discomfort, yet they frequently produce new side effects that then require additional prescriptions. The result is a cycle in which the underlying reasons for the illness—lifestyle, diet, stress, environment, or individual constitution—are rarely examined in depth. Many people become long-term patients whose care centers on monitoring and managing medications rather than restoring genuine wellness. Large pharmaceutical companies heavily influence research funding, medical education, and clinical guidelines, reinforcing a system built around illness and symptom control.

This is not an argument that Western medicine is without value, nor a suggestion that anyone should abruptly stop prescribed medication. Emergency interventions, surgery, and certain drugs have saved countless lives. Yet for those living with chronic pain, fatigue, digestive and neurological problems, migraine headaches, depression/anxiety/insomnia, or conditions that never fully resolve, the symptom-focused, pharmaceutical model often falls short. It treats the complaint more than the person and tends to leave patients feeling dependent rather than empowered.

Eastern holistic approaches start from a different premise. Each human being is viewed as a unique individual whose body, mind, and daily habits form one interconnected whole. The goal is not merely to quiet symptoms but to support the body’s innate ability to heal itself and stay well. Care therefore begins with prevention and lifestyle foundations. Diet is treated as medicine: food choices are assessed and adjusted to nourish the individual, reduce inflammation, and restore balance. Regular physical activity—whether walking, strength training, or gentle movement—keeps the body resilient. Mind-body practices such as meditation, deep breathing, yoga, Tai Chi, and Qigong calm the nervous system, ease stress, and activate the subtle self-healing mechanisms every person already possesses. Herbal supplements, acupuncture, functional medicine, and naturopathy may be added as complementary tools that work with the body’s natural processes rather than overriding them.

In large teaching hospitals across China today, it is common to see groups of patients, including those with serious conditions such as cancer, practicing Qigong together as a routine part of their care. Breathing, mindful movement, and focused attention are not afterthoughts; they are recognized as practical ways to support recovery and vitality.

This broader, person-centered model is how most acupuncture physicians in the United States are now trained. If you have grown weary of continually changing medications and managing their side effects, if temporary measures such as cortisone injections bring only brief relief, or if you have been told there is nothing more that can be done and you must simply “learn to live with it,” other options exist. A comprehensive approach that honors you as an individual—and that places diet, exercise, meditation, and other natural modalities at the center of care—can open a different path toward lasting well-being.

Transform Your Day from Stressful to Peaceful

By Manohara Ferretti, MDiv., Stress Relief Specialist

There are twelve Zen lessons that, if followed to your best ability, will transform your stress into serenity. Try some of these lessons to see if your day becomes transformed!

Focus on one task at a time: When we try to do too many things at once, the stress response can surge...our breath becomes shallow and quickens, our thoughts are racing, blood pressure can increase. Instead, when we focus on one thing at a time, we can relax into the moment. The body and mind slow down and breathing becomes relaxed. Surprisingly, we can accomplish all we need to by doing one thing at a time.

Move with intention and presence: When we move too quickly, trying to get to the next thing, we can often miss what is really going on. We can also miss seeing obstacles! Instead, be observant in the moment. Something wonderful can happen that we wouldn't want to miss.

Finish what you begin: As much as is practical, finish whatever task you are working on before moving on to another task. Don't allow yourself to be interrupted by phone calls, messages or thoughts that direct you elsewhere, especially if you are working on something that needs your undivided attention (like cooking or running machinery).

Eliminate the unnecessary: If it's not essential, cross it off the "To Do" list or postpone it for another time when you can accomplish the task in a more relaxed way.

Create breathing room between activities: Resting between activities will allow your body and mind to re-center and relax. Moving too quickly between activities can result in unwanted stress.

Build meaningful rituals: Set a regular time daily for a mindful walk in nature, a cup of herbal tea, or sitting quietly. Light a candle, play soothing music, read something meaningful, pray.

Assign time to what matters: Fit the important stuff into your life such as spending time with family and friends, working on creative projects, learning something new, volunteering in your community. When we spend time in meaningful activities, we gain a sense of satisfaction which contributes to our peace of mind.

Spend moments in stillness: Time spent doing nothing can recharge us. It releases tension and fatigue and allows us to gain new perspectives on challenges we may face.

Smile often and serve kindly: when we smile, we become happier in that moment. We also invite happiness to come to us from others. Being kind to others uplifts our spirits and creates a peaceful atmosphere around us.

Turn cleaning and cooking into meditation: Tasks that we may not always find fun but are necessary can become ways to create enjoyment in the day. When we resist or resent doing chores, we create tension in our bodies and emotions. But, by focusing on the task at hand, noticing all the elements of our engagement in the task and removing any resistance to accomplishing it, we can make it fun and meditative. So, turn on some lively music while dusting, experiment with spices while cooking, ask a friend to keep you company while washing the dishes.

Reflect on what is truly essential: In other words, don't sweat the small stuff. Remember to keep things in perspective and stay focused on what truly matters in life: health, love, family, friendship, and sharing your gifts, to name a few.

Choose to live lightly and simply: Let go and forgive old hurts, reduce clutter in your space, avoid conflicts and unresolvable differences, focus on peace, and practice gratitude.

book review

By Beatrice Horowitz

Talking to Strangers Malcolm Gladwell

According to Mr. Gladwell, talking to strangers is something we’re terrible at. He uses three precepts to illustrate his belief. The first one, ‘default to honesty,’ describes our inclination to believe what a stranger is telling us, even when it is not true. Hitler and Chamberlain at Munich and Bernie Madoff with much the whole investing world illustrate this precept. The second precept he proposes is ‘assumption of transparency,’ the tendency to believe that what we think is being communicated is actually what is being communicated. Amanda Knox’s trial for murder in Italy, the investigation of Jerry Sandusky for pedophilia at Penn State, and the rape trial of a Stanford University student in 2015 all illustrate how this tendency can lead us astray. The author’s third precept is that of ‘coupling,’ how people are prone to do certain things at certain times and in certain places. Crime patterns and police procedures, along with Sylvia Plath’s suicide, illuminate this precept. I listened to this book on Audible and rarely had to back it up to follow his arguments. Mr. Gladwell writes clearly and convincingly. He’s essentially pessimistic, but I liked that he pointed out that if we don’t default to truth it’s practically impossible to have a functioning society. So we shouldn’t be too hard on ourselves. But just go blundering on. And maybe try to get to know some of the strangers we meet a bit better, the better to understand them.

Live Like a Guide Dog Michael Hingson and Keri Wyatt Kent

This slow but charming read is the first-person account of the life of a blind man who escaped Tower One of the World Trade Center on 9/11/01, walking down eighty-three flights of stairs with his guide dog and a colleague among frightened hundreds of other people. Mr. Hingson got his first guide dog at age fourteen. The book recounts his story of living with ten successive dogs and his beloved paraplegic wife Karen, focusing on what he has learned from the dogs. Facing fear and staying calm, preparing for eventualities, and using your instincts to guide you are among the skills that he developed with his dogs. Sometimes he led, sometimes they did. When he felt lost in his life he turned to God for courage and guidance. One of the sweetest incidents he tells happened on 9/11. After a grueling and terrifying day, he and his dog, Roselle, finally arrived home in New Jersey. While his wife embraced him Roselle ran into the next room and retrieved her Booda Bone, ready to play. For her the trauma was behind them, and she was ready to move on to some fun.

One of the best things about reading is that you’ll always have something to think about when you’re not reading.
– James Patterson

IN REMEMBRANCE OF 9/11

On this solemn day, we honor the lives lost on September 11, the families forever changed and the enduring impact on our nation. We reflect on the courage of the first responders who ran toward danger, the resilience of our communities and the unity that emerged in the face of tragedy. The heroes who sacrificed, the loved ones they left behind and the promise to never forget remain etched in our memory.

Questions About Your 2026 Property Assessment or Exemptions?

The Property Appraiser’s Office mailed over 782,000 TRIM (proposed tax) Notices last month. The TRIM Notice shows your property’s 2026 Just/Market Value, any tax-saving exemptions you are receiving and the proposed tax amounts as set by the taxing authorities listed on the notice.

The 2026 Just/Market Values are based on the market data from 2025 with January 1, 2026 being the date of assessment. Any increases or decreases in the current market will be reflected in the 2027 assessments. It is important to remember the Property Appraiser’s Office does not set or collect taxes.

If you have questions or concerns about any of the proposed tax rates or non-ad valorem fees, including fire assessments, please contact the taxing authority listed on the TRIM Notice.

If you believe you are entitled to a Homestead Exemption or any other exemption not shown on your TRIM Notice, you may still late file for any 2026 exemption until September 18, 2026. For a list of all the available tax-saving exemptions and to apply for these exemptions online, please visit our website at web.bcpa.net or call us at 954-357-6830.

If you have questions about your 2026 Just/Market Value or exemptions, please email or call us prior to September 18, 2026.

The Value Adjustment Board (VAB) is an independent quasi-judicial review board. If you believe your Just/Market Value is not what a buyer would have reasonably paid for your property on January 1, 2026, you should first contact our office. If after speaking with one of our appraisers, you still do not agree, you can file an appeal with the Broward County Value Adjustment Board. If you were denied an exemption, you may also file a petition with the Value Adjustment Board to appeal this denial. The deadline for any VAB petition is September 18, 2026. To file a VAB petition online, please visit their <https://bcvab.broward.org/axiaweb2026>. Should you have any questions for the Value Adjustment Board, they can be reached at vab@broward.org or 954-357-7205.

Acquainting Myself with Fine Contemporary Works of Art by Female Artists at the Norton Art Museum

By Barry Isaac

Ever since I relocated to South Florida in 1979, I have spent many delightful hours at the Norton Art Museum in West Palm Beach, Florida. This review emphasizes the fine Contemporary Works produced by Female Artists that I appreciated on my most recent visit this summer.

At the “Recognition of Art by Women” Exhibit which ends on September 22, 2026, I saw wonderful Contemporary Works of Art by Female Artists. Among those works that captivated me were Sylvia Plimack Mangold’s “August Light” (very photorealistic painting), Nina Chanel Abney’s “Strut up for Noah” and “Class of 2007” (a fine painting depicting fascinating tronies of people of color), Klara Kristalova’s “Daphne” (a delightful Ceramic Creation by this Swedish Artist), Rose B. Simpson’s “Vital Organ Gut” (a very inventive work employing clay, grout, and twine by this New Mexican Artist), Maria Berrio’s “Anamochory” and “Woman in Sand Dunes” (a fine mixed media work employing collage with Japanese Paper, and watercolor on canvas by this Colombian Artist, currently living in New York City) Jenny Saville’s “Atonement Series Central Panel” (poignant painting that shows a woman in very serious thought) and Njidenka Crosby’s mixed media creation, “Super Blue Omo,” this work employs acrylic, photographic transfer, colored pencil on paper, and collage on paper by this Nigerian born artist currently living in Los Angeles.

I also saw and relished the fine “Danielle McKinney” Exhibit which ends on October 4, 2026. It is a very comprehensive collection of Danielle McKinney’s paintings that have been done in the past six years. Most of these paintings depicted women of color in deep serious thought, in some cases away from the tensions of everyday life. Many of the women depicted were smoking cigarettes. Danielle McKinney in many of her paintings employed Tenebrism, exaggerated darkness and light. Favorite paintings by Danielle McKinney included; “Prophetic,” “After The Dance,” “Moth To A Flame,” and “We Need To Talk” that day.

In the Norton Art Museum’s permanent collection, I savored fine Contemporary Works of Art by; Martha Edelheit “Power Tool Paper” (a creative depiction of male nudity), Loie Hollowell “Mother’s Milk,” Alice Neel “Virginia Miller,” Shirley Gorelick “3 Graces,” a magnificent work depicting 3 Nude Women with a marvelous light effect), Judy Chicago “Cardinal,” (lovely ceramic creation) Teresita Fernandez “Rise and Fall,” (a painting with a very creative depiction of water) Nora Nieves “The Heart” painted ceramic work, “The Eye,” and Howardina Pindell.

According to the staff at the Norton Art Museum, the third floor is being renovated, but the renovation is scheduled be completed by the end of October, 2026. It will feature its fine, but not comprehensive collection of Old Master European Paintings. Parking is nine dollars for the day across the street from the Norton or you can park for free, if you are willing to walk a few blocks.

The Shofars Cry

By Diane Gottlieb

The eve of September 11th marks the start of the Hebrew month of Tishrei and the eve of the Jewish New Year, when Jews around the world begin our celebrations of our High Holidays. These are times for feasting—the round challahs, apples, and honey of Rosh Hashanah—and the more somber fasting of Yom Kippur. These Days of Awe, the ten days beginning on Rosh Hashanah and culminating on Yom Kippur, are also known as Aseret Yemei Teshuvah, the Ten Days of Repentance, or the Ten Days of Return. It is during these ten days that G-d is especially close to us, when, as the sages say, “the gates of heaven are open, and G-d will listen to your prayers.” It is also our chance get in touch with our innermost selves—our yeichidah—and hopefully find the strength and courage to make positive changes and direct our hearts and minds upward.

None of this is automatic, however. We must act and seize these opportunities. And to help us become ready for this spiritually charged time of year, we have the shofar.

The shofar is a very interesting, ancient instrument, dating back to Biblical times. It may even be the oldest continuously played instrument still used today! Most often made from a hollowed-out ram’s horn, the shofar has three types of “voices”: Tekiah, which is a single long blast; Shevarim, which is three medium blasts; and Teruah, which is at least nine staccato blasts. Sounding the shofar is the central mitzvah of Rosh Hashanah, but the Torah doesn’t tell us why. Here are several reasons, given by the sages:

- Rosh Hashanah is the anniversary of creation, a time when Gd renews the creative energy sustaining the world. Just as trumpets are sounded at a king’s coronation, on Rosh Hashanah, we sound the shofar to crown G-d as King onceagain—and to announce to all G-d’s continued Kingship.

- Because the shofar was sounded when the Torah was given at Mt. Sinai, on Rosh Hashanah, we also sound the shofar as we rededicate ourselves to studying Torah—and to announce to Gd our continued commitment.

But what about those of us who are sleeping through their spiritual commitments, who have not yet connected to the renewed creative energy available at this time. For all the sleepyheads, the shofar functions as a grand alarm clock. Wake up, it cries. And what a cry! The Chassidic masters teach us that the cry of the shofar sounds much like the cry of a child who has been separated from his parent. Just as the child’s cry reflects a deep longing to be reunited with his parent, the shofar’s cry expresses our soul’s yearning for us to reconnect with G-d.

Each of our souls has a mission in this world. How will you answer your soul’s cry this year? What beauty and meaning will you create? What will teshuvah look like for you?

These are all questions we will hopefully awaken to and consider both now, as we prepare for the High Holidays and, especially, during the Days of Awe.

Wishing everyone a Shanah tova umetukah—a good and sweet year!

We, at Chabad of Coconut Creek, would love to see you at our High Holiday services, filled with meaning and melody!

- Rosh Hashanah Eve Services, Friday, September 11th, will begin at 7:00 p.m. and will be followed by a festive Community Holiday Dinner at 7:45 p.m. (by RSVP: 954-371-9412)

- Rosh Hashanah Shabbat Services on September 12th will begin at 10:00 a.m. and will be followed by a delicious Holiday Lunch. (Because the first day of Rosh Hashanah falls on Shabbat this year, there will be no blowing of the shofar on the 12th.)

- Rosh Hashanah services on September will begin at 10:00 a.m. The sounding of the shofar will be at 11:30 a.m., and another delicious Holiday Lunch will follow.

- Yom Kippur Candle Lighting and Kol Nidrei Service on the eve of Sunday, September 20th, will begin at 7:01 p.m.

- On Yom Kippur Day, Monday September 21st, services will begin at 10:00 a.m. There will be a Yizkor Memorial Service at 12:00 p.m., and Mincha/Neila Closing will begin at 5:30 p.m. A Buffet Break-Fast will follow after Yom Kippur ends at 7:52 p.m.

And here is just a sample of other exciting offerings you’ll find at Chabad of Coconut Creek:

Rebbetzin Leeba Gansburg leads a lively, fascinating bi-monthly women’s study group. Join Rebbetzin Leeba for a deep dive into the week’s parsha and learn how to bring the lessons of Torah into your daily life. The next meeting is on Wednesday, September 16th, at 1:00 p.m. On Wednesday, September 30th, the parsha class will gather in the Sukkah at 1:00 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Looking for warm and welcoming prayer services? We’ve got them! We’d love you to join us for our weekly Friday Night prayers.

Begin your Shabbat morning bright and early at Chabad of Coconut Creek with Rabbi Friedman’s enlightening discussion about the week’s parsha at 9:30 a.m. Services, beginning at 10:00 a.m., are followed by a hearty kiddush lunch, providing warm community connection in a welcoming family atmosphere.

Monday through Friday mornings, services begin at 8:00 a.m. And why not start your Sunday morning at 8:30 a.m. with Tefilin—complete with a Bagels and Lox Breakfast!

Here are two more offerings that will help our greater community:

We’re excited to announce our Kitchen of Kindness program, where we will cook and then deliver packages to community members.

And if you are looking for another meaningful volunteer opportunity, the South Florida Jewish Academy is looking for you! We need volunteers to tutor our students who would benefit from some extra one-on-one tutoring in English, Hebrew, reading, or math. If interested, please reach out!

To help keep track of our exciting programming, we are also pleased to share our beautifully designed Jewish Community Calendars. If you haven’t yet received one, please let us know—we’ll be happy to provide you with a copy.

Join us at 3700 Coconut Creek Parkway or reach out at 954-371-9412.

DON'T BE A VICTIM

Safety Solutions

By Scotty Leamon, Public Safety Information Officer, Coconut Creek Police Department

Scammers Clone City Phone Numbers

We’ve gotten word that the bad guys have cloned some city phone numbers and are using them to call folks claiming to be representatives from health insurance providers. So far, we’ve not talked to anyone who has fallen for the scam. Which is good. Help us keep it that way by getting the message out that if you get a call from a number where the first three digits are 9-7-3, and they tell you it’s about health insurance, just hang up because it’s a scam.

The bad guys have tried this before, pretending to be from our department and telling folks who answer the phone they owe money for skipping jury duty, which is also a popular form of this scam.

Public schools started last month.

Reminder that the Broward County Public Schools came back to class on August 10th.

The buses are running again, along with kids walking, biking, e-biking, and e-scootering to school.

The school zone speed cameras on NW 15th Street, or Cougar Trail, near Coconut Creek High School, are back on. Remember, when the flashers are flashing, keep your speed near 15 mph. Even when the flashers aren’t flashing, and as long as there are kids in the school, keep your car under 35 mph on Cougar Trail or you will get a $100 ticket in the mail. The speed limit is 25 mph.

Speed cameras on NW 39th Avenue in front of Sabal Pines Park, which is in Winston Park Elementary’s school zone, as well as a section of Johnson Road in Tradewinds Elementary’s school zone are both turned on for the school year. The regular speed limit is 30 mph on both of those streets.

When more cameras become active in additional school zones, we’ll let you know. You can find more information by visiting www.coconutcreek.gov/schoolzone.

Do The Right Thing of Coconut Creek Live Auction on September 17th

Do The Right Thing of Coconut Creek recognizes five Coconut Creek students, and one teacher, each month during a special ceremony in City Commission Chambers, usually on the fourth Thursday of the month at 5:30 p.m.

Students have won for everything from finding an iPhone and turning it in... to helping pull crash victims out of a burning car.

The ceremonies resume on Thursday, September 24th at 5:30 p.m. inside Commission Chambers (4800 West Copans Road).

A Live Auction to benefit this worthy non-profit will take place a week before, on Thursday, September 17th from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. at World of Beer, which is in Promenade at Coconut Creek.

We encourage you to come out and break some bread with us and maybe bid on an auction item or two. The ceremonies are also nice events where you can see the best and brightest as far as the future that Coconut Creek has to offer.

Stay tuned for more auction details on our social media pages and the Creek Armor app.

What's Better: Life Estate Deed (Early Bird) or Revocable Trust

By Attorney Martin Zevin

There are several ways to avoid probate on your home when you die. If you are single, there will be probate when you die unless you choose one of the following options. If you are married and own your home together, your surviving spouse will not have probate; however, there will be probate when the second of you passes away, unless one of these options is done.

Let us assume that you own your home jointly with your spouse and that you have one child. Both of you desire to have your child inherit your home when you both pass away.

The first option would be to add the name of your child to the Deed as a joint tenant with right of survivorship. This is not a good idea. It would affect your ability to claim your full homestead exemption. In addition, you lose control of your property and can only sell it if your child agrees and signs all closing documents. If you wanted to take the child off the Deed, you would be unable to do so. If your child files for bankruptcy, has an adverse judgment or files for divorce, your property could be subject to liens or other legal action. Therefore, I recommend against a Deed with your child as a joint tenant with right of survivorship.

The second option is a Life Estate Deed. There are two types of Life Estate Deed: regular and Enhanced (also referred to as Lady Bird). The regular Life Estate Deed requires that your child join in any sale or other changes on the Deed; therefore, you have lost control and cannot take your child's name off the Deed if you choose to do so. The Enhanced Life Estate Deed gives you the sole right to sell the property during your lifetime or make any other changes to the Deed without the permission of your child. The Enhanced Life Estate Deed has very specific legal language in order to be effective; therefore, do not attempt to do this on your own.

Even with the Enhanced Life Estate Deed, there are risks, particularly if your child has a bankruptcy, outstanding judgment or undergoes divorce. The worst risk, however, is if, God forbid, your child dies before you or with you in a common accident. Your child's estate would then become the owner of the property once you died, which would result in probate being required. Thus, the main purpose of the Life Estate Deed is not accomplished.

The best way to avoid probate on your home is to do a Revocable Living Trust. When you sign the Revocable Living Trust Agreement, you also sign a Deed transferring the property to you as Trustees of your Trust. You are able to keep your homestead exemption, maintain complete control of the property during your lifetime and make amendments to your Trust without changing the Deed. There are no risks involved, since your child's name does not appear on the Deed. The only disadvantage of the Revocable Living Trust is that it will cost more in attorney's fees. When you discuss the options with your attorney, you should discuss the difference in fees between the Revocable Living Trust and the Enhanced Life Estate Deed. You can then determine whether it is worth saving the money and taking the risks involved in the Enhanced Life Estate Deed.

POETRY

THE SEDUCTION

By Nancy Heller Moskowitz - 2026

A single red rose and a note “Be ready at Eight”
This was not like him, she was curious
Should she wear red or black?

At Five, a small package arrived
“Wear this when I arrive,” a blind fold was enclosed
Her lips were moist, other parts of her too
She prayed the time would pass quickly

It was Eight, the bell range and she was ready
When she opened the door, he kissed her like never before
She tore off the mask to find him in jeans, carrying a bag of popcorn

“Did you turn on the game? It’s about to begin”
She told him to go home!

Advisory Board For Disability In Broward County

By Roz Greenberg

As a member of the Broward County Disability Advisory Board, I have the opportunity to share important information with residents of Coconut Creek and surrounding counties. This information is intended for individuals living alone, as well as for family members and caregivers who may be facing disability-related concerns that need to be addressed.

Chess Club

Plays Every Tuesday Evening

By Hillel Cohen

It’s hot. But Chess is cool. Chess has had a rebirth of popularity, with online tournaments, blogs and even Netflix dramas. Don’t miss out.

The Chess Club meets every Tuesday evening from 6:30 p.m. to about 9:30 p.m. in Card Room 1 at the clubhouse. It’s indoors and, yes, air-conditioned, so we will be getting together all summer long, no matter the weather, unless of course there is a hurricane going on. If you have played at the club before, come back and meet some of the new players. If you haven’t participated before, what are you waiting for? Perhaps you haven’t played since high school and you’re wondering if you remember enough? We hear that a lot, because most of us hadn’t played in years. So, stop wondering and start playing and you’ll be surprised how quickly it will come back. The Wynmoor Chess Club welcomes all players at all levels. If you play online or against a computer, come and experience the difference of face-to-face play. There are no dues and no fees. Chess sets are provided. Games are casual and relaxed. No one’s keeping score or rankings. The point is to have a pleasant time while exercising our brains.

Democratic Club

By Alan Weiner

It has been a very busy summer, and the momentum continues to build! POLITICS DOESN’T TAKE THE SUMMER OFF — AND NEITHER DO WE.

The Wynmoor Democratic Club remains committed to keeping our members informed and engaged with the issues, candidates, and events shaping our community.

First, let me take this opportunity to thank everyone who attended our August meeting. I also want to thank our terrific speakers: Annette Taddeo, Don Prichard, Sonia Azim, and Earle Ford. We wish each of you the very best in your quest to be elected in the 2026 midterm elections.

Tuesday, September 1, 2026 — Lunch with Lauren Book. Our September 1st meeting will feature Lauren Book, a candidate for the Florida State Senate.

Doors open at 1:30 p.m., with lunch at 2:00 p.m., followed by our speaker. Reservations are required in order to receive lunch. Please text your reservation to 954-531-4887.

This promises to be another great meeting and another important opportunity to hear directly from a candidate about the issues that matter to our community.

Tuesday, October 6, 2026 — Sheila Rose. On Tuesday, October 6th, we will welcome Sheila Rose, City Manager of Coconut Creek and a longtime South Florida public service professional.

Sheila brings extensive experience in urban planning, transportation, environmental issues, community development, and regional planning throughout Broward County. She also has an extensive background in issues affecting the City of Coconut Creek.

We look forward to an informative and interesting afternoon with Sheila.

Tuesday, October 27, 2026 — POLITICAL RALLY! This is going to be special! Mark Tuesday, October 27th on your calendar as a MUST-ATTEND EVENT! Candidates and Democratic officials will be joining us for what promises to be a very special evening. Doors open at 6:00 p.m. More information will follow, but for now, mark the date, bring your friends, and LET’S GET THIS RALLY STARTED! The Wynmoor Democratic Club is keeping the momentum going — and we want you to be part of it!

Fishing Club

By Paul Villano

YIN AND YANG AND ZEN FISHING: If you are looking for mindful relaxation forget the thousands of books on the subject or the expensive retreats or yoga classes and gurus. You don’t have to recite endless mantras or stare at a wall or stand on your head.

All you need to do is go to Walmart and pick up a cheap rod and reel and a tub of worms and go fishing!

If you want to get all “touchy-feely” about it, fishing is an excellent way to practice mindful relaxation. The gentle sound of moving water and the rhythmic motion of casting engage a phenomenon psychologists call “blue mind” - a mildly meditative state characterized by calmness, peacefulness, and general happiness.

In layman’s terms it is a good excuse to do and think about nothing, get away from your spouse or just be a good for nothing lazy bum!

While there are no formal meetings members stay in touch on WhatsApp because while the regular club meetings don’t pick up again until December of 2026 the club fishes all year long.

If you would like to learn more about the club you can e-mail us at fishingclubwynmoor@yahoo.com or text Paul at 516-526-5313.

Glass Kiln Club

By Vicki Mitchell

New members are trained at the beginning of each season by club President Oreet Fagen, and there is much to learn! Selecting your glass, cutting it, grinding it, tacking or fusing it, and selecting your mold to slump it are some of the steps in creating the beautiful works that result from these efforts. Jewelry, bowls, dishes, serving pieces, candle holders, night lights, ocean waves, village scenes and free form sculptures are just some of the creative pieces being produced. We also have the chance to learn new techniques and get new ideas from Oreet at the beginning of each season. The club has monthly breakfast meetings and participates in the Art Walk and upcoming Art Show. Club officers, in addition to President Oreet Fagen, include Vice-president Sharon Schultz, Treasurer Lenny Fagen, and Secretary Judy Platt.

Pottery Club

By Edwin Meyer

The Pottery Club continues to evolve. We have implemented a system to have membership be a larger part of our management and decision making along with the Board. For example, our first post-Covid graduates among other newbies have become so proficient in their area of interest that the students have now become the teachers and suggested we begin monthly reviews of basic techniques depending on need for members who for no fault of their own have been unable to develop their skills. We now offer monthly reviews of basic techniques which are also a plus for returning snowbirds.
